In our age, the age of turmoil, confusion, and anxiety, one must be aware and become involved. Today's youth and older generations express themselves in many ways: riots, sit-ins, speeches, editorials, etc. More often than not the speeches and editorials are ignored and the protests and anti-establishment movements result in lawlessness and rash police action. Why can't these protests and peaceful movements for liberal changes be understood by all generations? As editor I intend to keep a liberal mind concerning the contents of the annual, and I challenge you to examine the material accordingly.

In former years I feel Bearden students have been less aware of current problems and situations in our country. However, this year there is a handful of students who are helping their fellow students to realize that there is a world beyond the Knoxville city limits. We are living in an economically impoverished area where funds are scarce for education. We may think this lack of educational resources is outweighed by the fact that Bearden is one of the highest-rated schools in Tennessee. But when our state has one of the poorest ratings in education in the nation, how do Bearden High School students compare with students from top-ranked states? Will you be able to enter the career of your choice? Yes. The opportunity for self-expression and higher education is available at Bearden if one chooses to become involved. This year the Class of '69 is fast becoming the most aware and most involved class Bearden High School has ever had. My role in this change consists of recording the separate stories of concern, involvement, and expression truthfully and completely.

³ Linda Hoyle

"I am youth and I am a paradox. I cloak my emotions in the garb of unconcern. If I seem indifferent, it is because I feel too deeply. If I seem boastful, it is to cover my shortcomings. My exuberance is a shield of my limitations. I am a youth and I long to be different, stronger, more honest, more feeling, more alive than other men. I am youth and I long to be a conformist . . . to dress, act and talk like the crowd. I am a realist. Be honest with me; I can sense hypocrisy and I loathe it. I cannot condone a leader who does not know the way, show the way, go the way. I am an idealist. I will act on principle for its sake alone. I am a child. Sixteen does not make me too old to climb on my father's lap when my castles in the sky come tumbling down. I am an age of mountainous love and deep despair. I am unaware of any real indifference. The pain of all creatures is personal to me. I burn with a rising tide of fury at a restroom sign, 'White Only'. I feel needed and though the cynic says I am too precious a gift to waste on the young, who else would accept my turbulent, bittersweet, dreaming ways? Yes, I am youth and I am a paradox; a contradiction to myself; an enigma to others; and yet, I am the eternal hope of the world. I am the key to the future . . . cherish me!"

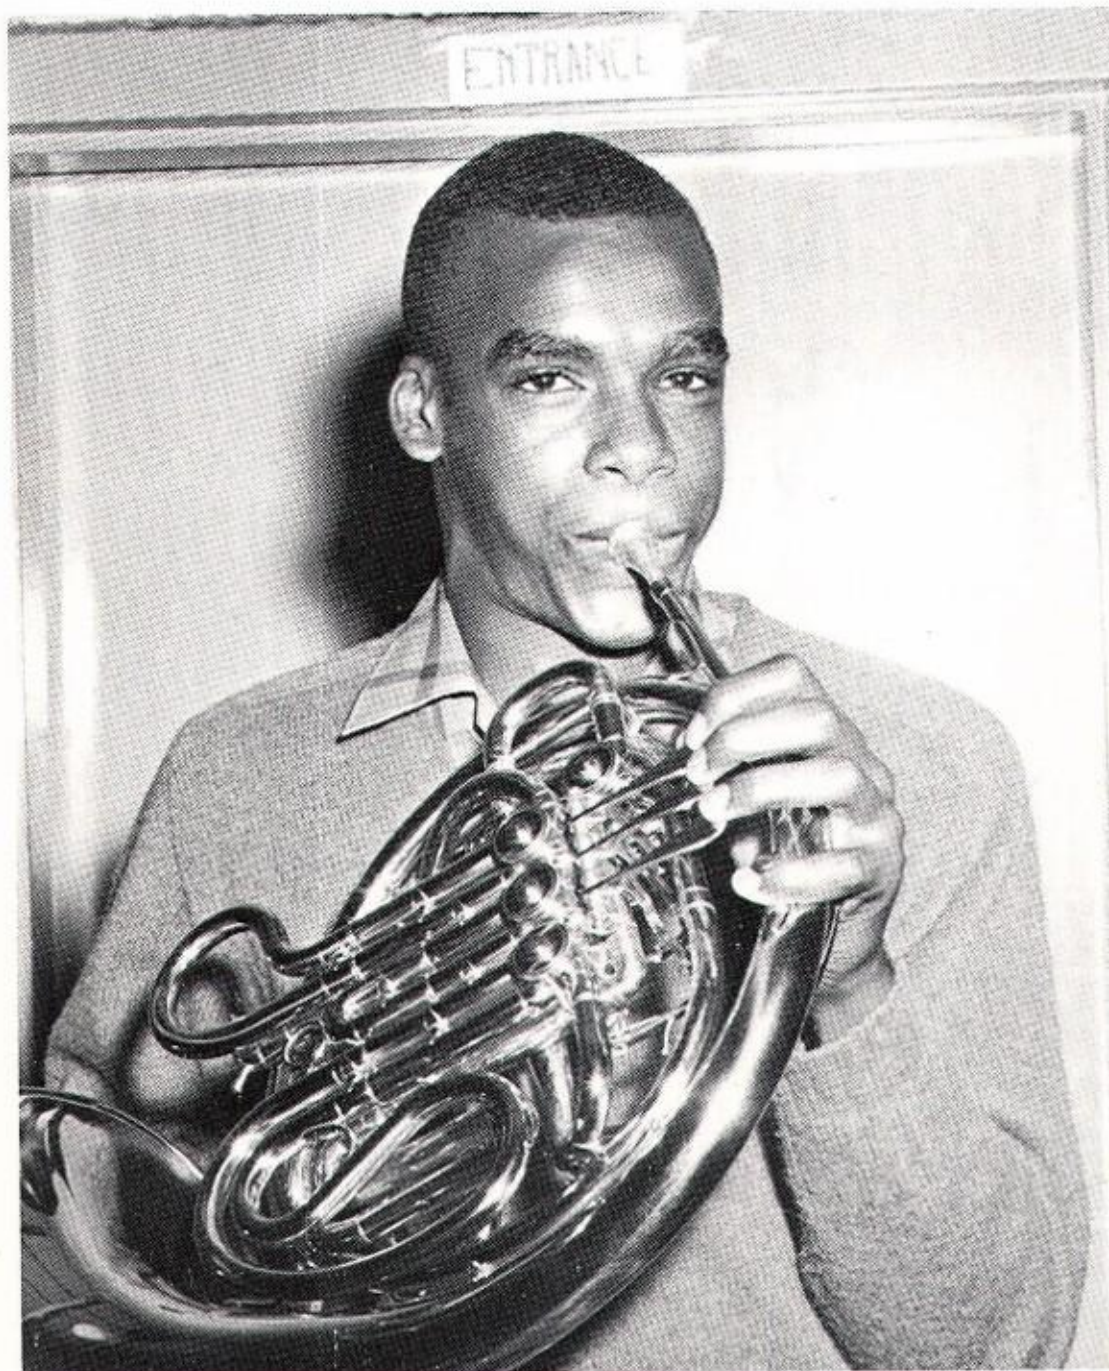

A school lives on; but a school with spirit and pride prospers. Perhaps a stick represents an enthusiasm; but there is greater meaning. When we strive with our last ounce of courage and do our best, then no more can be asked of us and the fulfillment of life will be ours.

"I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed . . . that all men are created equal. I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character. I have a dream today. And if America is to be a great nation, this must become true. So let freedom ring. And when this happens, when we let it ring, we will speed that day when all of God's children, black men and white men, Jews and Gentiles, Protestants and Catholics, will be able to join hands and sing in the words of the old Negro spiritual:

Free at last, free at last Thank God Almighty, we're free at last."

Yes, it is we that will make this dream a reality. When we put aside our petty prejudices and trivial thoughts, perhaps the black man and the Indian will gain equal opportunities, and all men will have economic and social equality. Let us seek a newer world.

Cogitare est vivere
Cicero

"To think is to live," said the grand orator, yet in the frenzied life at Bearden, in the course of early morning club meetings, themes for Mrs. Counts, chemistry tests, how many of us have the time to really think? Or to rephrase the question, how many of us have the time to really live?

We, as individuals, walk through the doors of this school and are molded into one body. Yet we remain individuals, comparing thoughts, ideas, experiences . . . and changing. We the students and teachers change, but the school is constant. Perhaps it seems ugly and impersonal to us when we first come, but as we work and play and grow here, we begin to cheer for its teams, to fight for its reputation, and to cry in its losses. When we walk through its doors for the last time, we look back upon it, for we have spent part of our lives here. The doors close, we are gone, but the impressions we have left will never disappear.

Spirit reached an all-time high at BHS this year. There is spirit in each individual to support various teams and clubs. There is spirit to help others. There is spirit to let others know yours is the "best class". There is spirit to achieve a closer faculty-student relationship. There is spirit to make suggestions and compromises. Probably most important, however, there is spirit to better oneself through all phases of high school life.

Sendo - you're a real sweet girl and a great friend. Best of luck in the future! I've really enjoyed living in homeroom with you. I hope we have some classes together next year. Love ya, Kathy Jones

A highlight of every Bearden High school year is the Junior-Senior Prom. The Class of '69 raised an unsurpassed sum of money from the sale of candy and calendars to bring the "Esquires" to the prom. By the work of Junior Class officers, committees, sponsors, and parents, "An Evening in Venice" proved to be truly magnificent.

The New Bearden High School

This is the architect's drawing of the new Bearden High School. It is the school from which the Class of '70 and all classes thereafter will graduate.

Construction on the new Bearden High School officially began with a ground-breaking ceremony at the new site on Gallaher View Road and Kingston Pike, Tuesday, December 5, 1967, at 4:00 P.M.

After the invocation by Reverend Andrew J. Prince, Pastor of the West Hills Baptist Church and speeches by members of the City Board of Education, the ground-breaking ceremony took place with the music being provided by the Bearden High School band.

Dr. Olin L. Adams, Jr., Superintendent of City Schools, served as emcee for the ceremony. Other principal participants were Dr. Roy Wallace and Mr. Andrew Hutson, assistants to Dr. Adams; William R. Turner, Bearden High School principal; Howard Temple, president of the Knoxville Board of Education; the PTSO officers from Bearden; and the principals and PTA presidents from the local elementary schools. Also, the officers of the Class of '70 and the Class of '71 attended.

The new Bearden High School is scheduled for completion in July, 1969. Masonry, brick and steel construction make the new school virtually fireproof. The total structure will include some 192,000 sq. ft. of floorspace. The $3,500,000 structure will be among the first schools to be totally air conditioned in the Knoxville school system.

The following is a list of contractors, construction companies, and material suppliers, all of which contributed greatly to the erection of the new Bearden High School.

This year's Executive Council has taken steps to acquire additional land fronting the new Bearden High School.

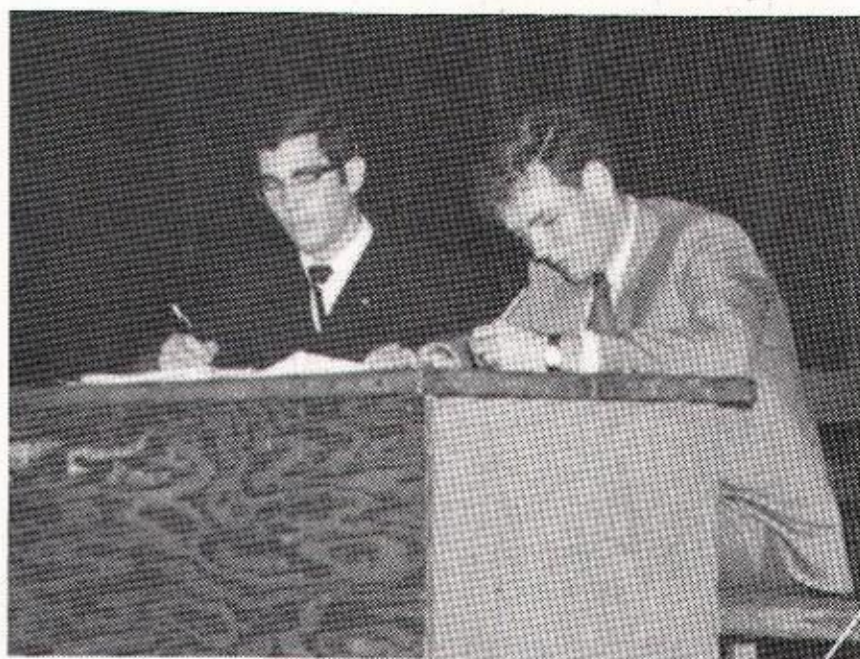

Presidential Preference Debate and Mock Election

A presidential preference debate was presented to the students of Bearden High School by the Bearden Chapter of the National Forensic League. Represented were each of the three major candidates. George Miles cross-examines Jim Underwood.

In the mock election that was held at Bearden, the students proved to be prophetic in choosing Mr. Nixon as their favorite candidate. Coverage by newspapers and TV culminated the election-day procedures at Bearden High School.

Annual Staff

The Annual Staff is responsible for composing and publishing this annual. This is accomplished under the capable supervision of Mrs. Lowry, our advisor. This year the staff is comprised of nine students selected for their intelligence, ability to cooperate with others, and willingness to devote a full year to yearbook work without receiving a high school credit.

The members of the staff are David Anderson, Sara Calhoun, Patricia Cole, Karen Drew, Margaret Fuller, Betsy Gouffon, Alan Gruenberg, Sue Tugwell, and Andy

White. David Anderson is the Editor with Patricia Cole, next year's editor, serving as his Assistant Editor. Andy White is the Sports Editor. His duties consist of recording Bearden's sports' accomplishments throughout the year. Sue Tugwell is the Art Editor; she contributes artwork and aesthetic touches to the annual. Posing and arranging the pictures is the job of the photographer, Alan Gruenberg. The staff members who record the annual sales and distribute the annuals are the Circulation Managers, Sara Calhoun and Margaret Fuller. The Ad Managers, Karen Drew and Betsy Gouffon, are responsible for managing and recording the sales of ads.

Very few people realize what it takes to publish an annual. There are two main jobs over the course of the year; publishing the annual and financing the printing and the photography. Composing the annual is the creative side of the staff's work. Each page must be designed and drawn with patience and accuracy or it takes extra production time and money to publish the page. Each annual actually costs more than five dollars to print. For this reason, the staff must raise approximately one thousand dollars from ads and patrons. Since the annual must be completed in half a year, it can easily be seen that the first semester is a hectic one.

The purpose of the Math Club is to increase knowledge and interest in the various fields of mathematics. To fulfill this purpose, the Math Club invites speakers throughout the year to lecture on certain areas of math.

The Math Club looks for short-cuts.

Science Club

The newly-formed Science Club meets on the first Monday of each month. These meetings consist largely of guest speakers, films, and other projects. The club's main project for the year was starting and maintaining a science library.

Officers are Robert Cook, President; Danny Miller, Vice-President; Chip Eastham, Secretary; Quentin Humberd, Librarian; and Henry Hooker, Treasurer. Sponsor is Mrs. Jenkins.

Devotions Club

The Devotions Club exists through its motto, "Find Him in the morning, walk with Him all the day."

Officers are Steve Harrison, President; Bobbye DeArmond, Vice-President; Sylvia Hartley, Secretary; and Sharon Webb, Treasurer. Sponsor is Mrs. Williams.

Future Homemakers of America

Officers are Etta Barrett, President; Cyndy Bliem, Vice-President; Janara Jones, Secretary; Becky Smith, Parliamentarian; Linda Cobble, Historian; Paula Shirley, Song Chairman; and Susie Adams, Reporter. Sponsor is Mrs. Francis.

The purpose of FHA is to promote a growing appreciation of the joys and the satisfactions of homemaking. The members, most of whom are home economics students, work on related projects. Such activities include a Christmas bazaar and a Homecoming reception for Bearden alumni.

Future Teachers of America

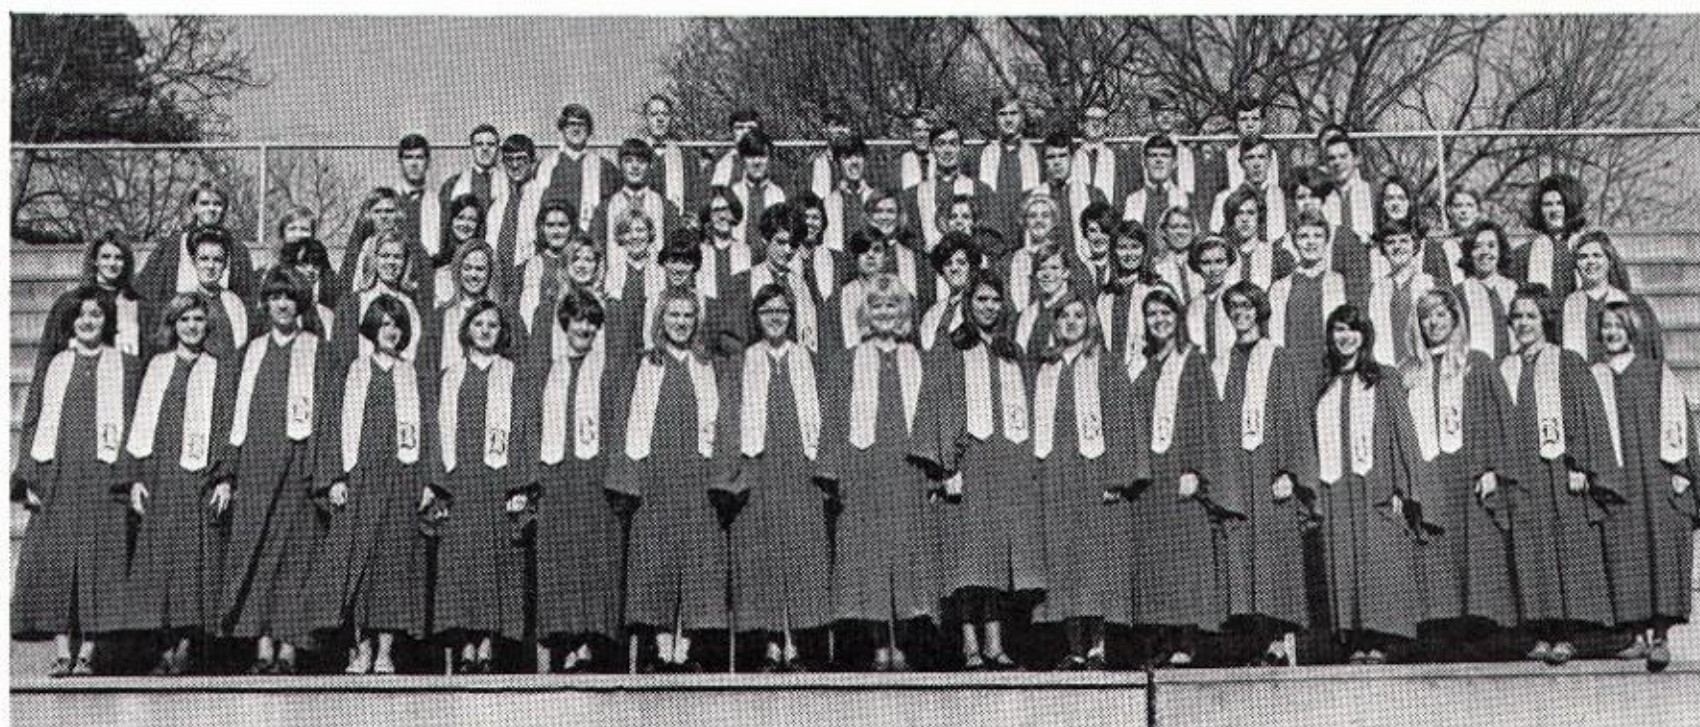

FTA is organized to help students decide on the career they would like to enter after they have finished school. This club provides special interest for those planning to enter the teaching profession. One activity of FTA is the awarding of a $50 scholarship to the most deserving senior.

Officers are Maria Thuemler, President; Kathy Hawk, Vice-President; Diana Henry, Secretary; and Karen Coopwood, Treasurer. Sponsor is Mrs. Hollow.

Choir

The Bearden Choir is an active group. It has grown quickly since it was started, providing musical entertainment for the students of Bearden. Besides musicals, the Choir gives regular concerts. The members, mostly juniors and seniors, must try out and practice during school. The officers are: Bobby Luper, president; John Pannell, vice-president; Jan Kratschmer, secretary; Jan Cordell, treasurer; Janie Poole, librarian; Brenda Smith, publicity chairman; and Becky Burns, robe chairman. The sponsor is Mr. Francis.

Choir Officers

Girls' and Mixed Choruses

Girls'
Chorus

Mixed Chorus

Mr. Francis, director

The Girls' Chorus and the Mixed Chorus are mainly involved with learning fundamental musical skills. The Chorus members, many of whom are lower classmen, prepare during the year to try out for Choir. Sometimes they give programs on their own or assist the band, orchestra, or the Choir in a performance.

Distributive Education

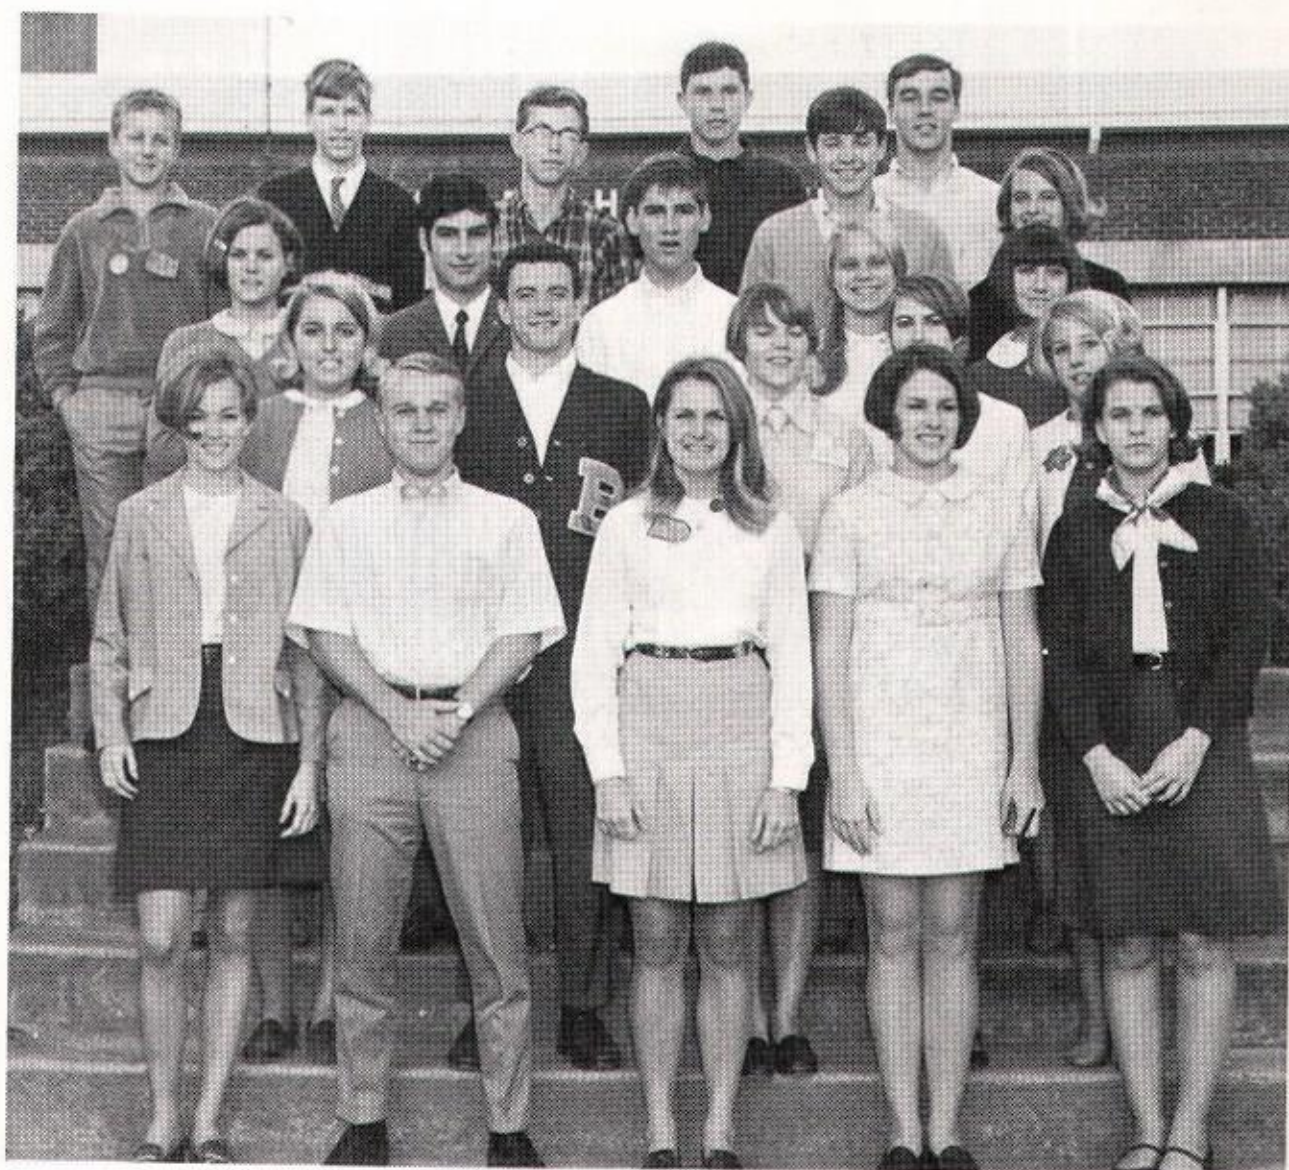

Distributive Education is a cooperative training program in distribution. The students attend school the first half of the day and then go to their respective jobs. They hold a variety of positions involved in business including cashiering, selling, and delivery in department stores, specialty shops, variety shops, and service stations. They study merchandising in class and put their learning into practice on the job.

Annual and Newspaper Representatives

Every homeroom has a newspaper and an annual representative. These two people from each homeroom are responsible for selling, recording the sales of, and distributing newspapers and annuals.

Linda,

I've really enjoyed being in your French and English classes this year. Don't forget 'Garth and Lynette'. (and Sherrill's Stables!)

The 1968 Bearden Bulldogs had a truly outstanding season. The team swept to eight wins and a tie in ten games, losing only to Oak Ridge. As a result of this fine record, they were invited to play in the Optimist Bowl against Doyle High School. In the bowl game Bearden, controlling the ball all game long, defeated previously unbeaten Doyle 27--0. The squad was not without outstanding players. Both Danny Moon and Tommy Hammett made various All-State teams. Captain Jim Anker, Len Pilkington, and Tim Townes also became well-known around the area for their exceptional play.

Hard work and dependability are two factors which go into the services of custodians and cafeteria workers at BHS every day. After fifteen years of dedicated service and concern for all Bearden students and faculty, Mrs. Bennett, cafeteria dietitian, is retiring. Linda,
It's been a lot of fun being with you in English this year. Remember Algebra, Mrs. Weaks, the whole ~~that~~ bit. Keep your darlin' personality & we'll see ya next year!

Love ya,
Pat Bohannon

CLASS
SIXTY-NINE

Biology was really C-O-O-L! Take a frig pan!
Have fun and be good.

Mauro

Linda,
I wish I could think up some brilliantly insulting remark like the one you bestowed on my annual, but since I don't have your talent in such areas, I'll settle for the satisfaction of seeing you starve at lunch. No, really, it has been fun this year. Yours truly, Joan

To a great kid who has the brains I always wished I had. I need them worse than you. your friend and mine,
Gudy Mynatt

Linda,
 You a brains kid who I enjoyed being in gym class with.
 Maybe I will see ya this summer.
 Best of luck
 Denise

Q Linda, Q Relax had a lot of fun haven't we especially with our locker like you fish. Well, I hope we can be in some classes together next year. Best of luck always Mary Beth Lee

To a very stay as sweet as you are + good as the future

Linda ya,
Wilma

Linda,
I don't know you very much but I like you well enough to say - You're a new girl in gym.
See you at Mannie!

Jackie
Hanks

Linda,
I haven't come up because I haven't been formally invited! Why don't you ask about a month in advance? (You have to, to catch me on the run!) It's been great knowing you these past 2 years. Remember all our mutual teachers (Belley, Hooker, Stewart, Weaks, Wolfe, etc.) Good luck in everything you attempt.

Love,

Carol
